

OUTDOOR ALTERNATIVE, RHOSCOLYN, LL65 2NQ

Cerrig yr Adar is at the southern end of Ynys Cybi - Holy Island, 300 metres from the pleasant and safe Borthwen beach at Rhoscolyn.

We appear on the Ordnance Survey 50,000 Sheet 114 as a building symbol at ref. 278752.

To find us by road:

From the new A55 dual carriageway across the Island leave at Junction 3, signposted Y Fali / Valley, A5

Follow signs for Y Fali / Valley, continue to the road junction traffic lights

Turn left for Trearddur (Bay) B4545

Continue for just over 1 mile, over the bridge, straight across the mini roundabout

Take the left turn shortly after the bridge over the Inland Sea at Four Mile Bridge - signposted, 'Rhoscolyn'

At about 0.6 mile down this lane look for a large white gate-post appearing in the middle of the road. (This is BEFORE the first speed-ramp.)
